Vienna, November 7.

BY Letters from Conſtantinople of the 16th of Auguſt we have an Account, that about the 28th of April laſt the Imperial Reſident Fleiſchman diſpatched from thence his Valet de Chambre, by the Way of Walachia, of which the Grand Vizier having ſecret Information, he ſent Orders to all the Frontiers to ſtop any who ſhould attempt to paſs and to ſeize their Letters: The Valet was taken in Walachia, and ſent with the Letters which were found about him to the Vizier, who cauſed him to be put to Death publickly. In a little Time after, Monſieur Brue, the French Interpreter, was fallen upon by two of the Vizier's Guards, who ſeized his Horſe's Bridle; but their Piſtols miſſing Fire, they withdrew. Two Days after, being in Company with Sig. Maurocordato, Interpreter of the Port, and about 40 other Perſons, he was again aſſaulted by the ſame Guards, who ſhot him in the Back, and then five of their Comrades ruſhing out of a Place where they had lain in wait for him, and the Company diſperſing, they cut him to pieces with their Scimiters, without offering to rob him: It was not doubted but this Murther was committed by the ſecret Order of the Vizier. By the ſame Letters we learn, that two Servants of Sir Robert Sutton, the Britiſh Miniſter, were ſtopt at Belgrade in their Way to Conſtantinople, and confined there from the 5th of July till after the Defeat of the Turkiſh Army near Peterwaradin, when the Baſhaw of Belgrade ſet them at Liberty, excuſing himſelf for having detained them, and deſiring them to aſſure Sir Robert Sutton, that he had been forced to obey the Orders of the late Vizier. Thoſe Servants, whoſe Names are Bergoin and Sturm, arrived at Conſtantinople on the 11th of Auguſt, with Letters for Sir Robert Sutton from England. We have alſo an Account, that the late Vizier, when he was arrived at Belgrade with the Turkiſh Army, held a great Council of War, in which he was adviſed not to paſs the Save; but he rejected that Advice with Contempt, ſtayed there only two Days, and having drawn together the Troops on that Frontier and in Garriſon there, conſiſting of about 12000 Men, to reinforce his Army, and taken out of Belgrade a great Quantity of Ammunition with 60 Battering Pieces, he paſſed with the Army over the Save in four Days, by a Bridge of Boats which lay under the Cannon of Belgrade, and advanced towards Peterwaradin. During the Battle, the Vizier did not ſtir out of his Tent till the Impeſialiſts had penetrated into the Turkiſh Camp: He firſt received a ſlight Wound in one of his Temples by a grazing Shot, and being afterwards ſhot through the Body, was by his Pages put into one of the Carts belonging to his Kitchen; and being carried off to Belgrade, was buried there with much Ceremony. Nothing was ſaved of all that was valuable in the Turkiſh Camp, except about 70 Purſes of Gold, which were plundered by the Spahis, but taken from them again at their Return over the Bridge on the Save. Prince Ercolani, the Emperour's Plenipotentiary to ſeveral Courts of Italy, ſet out Yeſterday from hence for that Country. Prince Alexander of Wirtemberg is made Governour of Temeſwaer.

Venice, Nov. 6. On the 4th Inſtant Count Coloredo, the Emperour's Ambaſſadour, had Te Deum ſung in the Chapel of the Barefooted Friers, for the taking of Temeſwaer; and afterwards gave a magnificent Dinner, at which were preſent the Electoral Prince of Saxony, the Pope's Nuncio, the Reſident of His Britannick Majeſty, and ſeveral other Foreign Miniſters, with many Ladies of Quality: At Night there was a Ball, a Conſort of Muſick, and Illuminations. They are hard at Work in our Arſenal on two new Men of War, beſides the two which were lately launched. The Princeſs of Walachia is gone from hence with her two Sons for Vienna. 'Tis adviſed from Rome, that on the 31ſt paſt a Military Congregation was held, and ſome Officers of the Pope's Ships of War were broke for not doing their Duty the laſt Campaign in the Levant, and 'twas reported that the Command of the Pope's Gallies will be given to Sig. Guzzi.

Genoa, Nov. 10. On the 7th Inſtant arrived here the four French Gallies which not long ſince paſſed by for Civita Vecchia, and Yeſterday they proceeded on their Return to France. The ſame Day ſailed from hence for Cartagena the five Spaniſh Gallies which have been with the Venetian Fleet in the Levant. This Day arrived here Mr. Davenant, His Britannick Majeſty's Envoy to this Republick.
